ART against Teen Dating Violence

To reflect your understanding of relationships free of gender-based violence (GBV) through an innovative creative-artistic form.

Consent form

Invitation

Children First is a unique project aimed at preventing and combatting *teen dating violence, the specific type of gender-based violence (GBV) occurring among adolescents and in teen relationships.

It represents a shared effort to educate school children (aged 12 – 18) to prevent and address dating violence from an early age, undermining gender stereotypes, norms and roles that are the main causes of gender – based violence among children and teenagers.

In this phase, we are organising an online creative contest for adolescents attending schools, in order to reflect their understanding of relationships free of gender-based violence through an innovative creative-artistic form.

We would like to invite _____ (name of the adolescent) to participate in the contest, presenting an artwork reflecting the theme of teen dating violence. Therefore, we request that you fill in the Consent Form below.
